Annual Scientific Production

Articles

The graph illustrates the annual scientific production in articles from 1998 to 2022. The production starts at approximately 1 article in 1998, drops to 0 in 1999 and 2000, and then shows a steady increase with some fluctuations, reaching a peak of about 17 articles in 2018. After a sharp decline in 2019, it reaches another peak of 15 articles in 2020, followed by a decline to about 2 articles in 2022.

A world map with a white background and grey landmasses. Numerous red lines of varying thickness connect various locations across the globe, representing a network of connections. The lines are most dense in the North Atlantic and Europe. A blue hexagonal logo with a white stylized figure is located in the bottom right corner. The map is oriented with North at the top. The x-axis is labeled 'Longitude' and the y-axis is labeled 'Latitude'.

The graph illustrates the annual publication of articles from 1998 to 2022. The data shows a period of low activity in the late 1990s, followed by a steady increase starting around 2004. There are notable peaks in 2010, 2018, and 2020, with 2018 reaching the highest point at approximately 17 articles. A sharp decline is observed in 2022, with only about 2 articles published.
